Clarence Shisler and A. D. McCrady of La Crosse are arrested at Blair by Officers

CAR AND ALCOHOL CONFISCATED IT IS ALLEGED BY OFFICERS

Hearing Set for July 12 to be Held in Village of Whitehall

CLARENCE SHISLER and A. D. McCrady of La Crosse were arrested in Blair, Wis., on charges of transporting liquor. They were released on $1,000 bail each for a hearing at Whitehall on July 12. Shisler's car which was being used to move the alleged liquor was confiscated along with 50 gallons of alcohol, it is alleged. Officers were being made in Whitehall Thursday to recover the car. The arrests were made by a deputy sheriff who, it is alleged, discovered Shisler and his companion disposing of some of the alcohol in Blair. The bulk of the "wet" cargo was destined for La Crosse, it is alleged. Shisler formerly conducted a road house on the West Salem road, near the city limits. Later he reopened the old Palm Garden in Front street, now known as the Old Style Inn. It is said that he disposed of this place recently.

KLEINERTZ SANDED FLOOR AT "RIVAL'S" DOOR TO TRAP WIFE

Tells at Examination Preliminary to Divorce Action How He Sought to Get Evidence

DECLARES HE SAW CHARLES CHURCHILL KISSING WIFE

Denied He Ever Struck Her But She Gave Him a Beating

Sprinkling sand in front of the door of his supposed rival's room to get footprints that might reveal whether or not his wife was visiting in the room at night, was one of the startling admissions brought out at the adverse examination of Frank Kleinertz, restaurant man, by Fred H. Hartwell, attorney for Mrs. Anna Kleinertz, who is suing for a divorce. The examination was held before Court Commissioner Hunt Thursday. Charles Churchill was named as the alleged rival by Kleinertz. The husband also declared he ripped off a taxicab company to report to him what his wife would go riding with the "rival."

"I got a detective now who is on the job," said Kleinertz in response to Hartwell's questioning. "Is he kept busy?" asked Hartwell. "I should say there was enough to keep ten of them busy," replied Kleinertz. However, Kleinertz asserted that he still loved his wife dearly and would take her back right that minute. Mrs. Kleinertz in seeking a divorce, charges that her husband has failed properly to support her. In answer to this charge, Kleinertz declared that she always bought whatever she wanted and "right now she has 24 dresses and 19 pairs of shoes in her room."

"Did you ever see your wife and Churchill doing anything wrong?" asked Mr. Hartwell. "Well, I saw Churchill kiss her and then there were these stories that people would tell me about them," answered Kleinertz.

"But did you see them doing anything wrong?" again asked Mr. Hartwell.

"I saw them one day in the court house square," said Kleinertz. "They were sitting on a bench. Churchill had his arm around her. Another day I saw them together in Cameron park."

Denies He Sought to Trade Wives

"Did you ever ask Churchill if he would trade wives with you?" queried Mr. Hartwell. "Why no," said Kleinertz with much emphasis. "I'll tell you that story. I stopped Churchill one day and asked him if he loved my wife and he said he did. I took him to my room where my wife was and told her that Churchill said he loved her. I asked her to choose between us. She should either take him or me. "And what did your wife say?" "Oh, she just laughed and said I was crazy," said Kleinertz. "Did you ever refuse to provide your wife with the little delicacies that she asked for, such as chicken?" asked Mr. Hartwell. "I never refused to give her food that she wanted. One day she wanted chicken. The chicken had been burned to a crisp by the cook. I didn't want to give her that, so I got some veal and roasted it myself and took it to her. She pushed it away and wouldn't eat it," was Kleinertz's reply. "Were you ever intoxicated?" Intoxicated twice, says Kleinertz. "Twice in about ten years; one of the times my wife gave me the liquor. I don't get drunk often. I hate the stuff."

HOUSE TO VOTE ON NEW TARIFF BILL JULY 21

Republicans Agree to Limit Debate to Five-Minute Periods After July the Fourteenth

DEMOCRATS ON COMMITTEE FILE MINORITY REPORT

Denounce Bill as Conspiracy to Benefit Few at Expense of the Many

WASHINGTON.—With the house beginning consideration of the general tariff bill the republican majority has fixed July 21 as the date for a final vote on the measure. Under a program of procedure agreed upon at a republican conference Wednesday night the period for general discussion will be limited to July 14, debate thereafter to be under the five minute limitation. Democrats Denounce Bill Democratic members of the ways and means committee, in a minority report filed in the house of representatives, denounce the administration tariff bill as a "conspiracy to benefit a few favorites at the expense of all humanity." "Like every conspiracy it has been hatched in secrecy," the report says, adding: "We record our solemn judgment that this measure is a plan to plunder the people of our own country and to oppress the people of every country for the benefit of a few men who have succeeded in usurping for all practical purposes the taxing power of this government, using it primarily to enrich themselves, and secondarily, to finance the political party which tolerates, encourages and facilitates the usurpation."

Tariff Not an Issue

The report declares the tariff was not an issue in the last campaign and that this is not the time to write a tariff law. They assert the problems which confront our people cripple our industry, stifle our commerce and perplex an amiable administration have nothing to do with the tariff. Criticizing the republican majority of the committee for withholding the bill from them and from the house membership generally and for permitting only a week for its study, the democratic members declare there has been insufficient time to draft a substitute. They do not undertake any detailed discussion of the individual schedules in the bill, confining their 27 page, typewritten report to a general indictment of the whole measure and the manner of its preparation. Emphasis is laid upon two things: the probable effect of the bill on American commerce and the world industrial situation, generally and upon the substitution of the system of American valuation as a basis for levying tariff duties.

Need No New Tariff

Pointing to the rapidly decreasing American foreign trade the report says: "We need no tariff to cut off the imports and the exports of the United States." Calling attention that the foreign trade of the United States fell from $1,188,255,449 last July to $927,375,825 in May 1921, the report says: "Certainly the natural process is preferable to the infected knife of interested surgeons who by selecting the industries to protect and those to destroy can reap the harvest their campaign contributions seeded last fall. Verily, the oil men are entitled to their reward and the lumbermen the reward men and the others who cast their bread on the waters of a republican tide."

Will Destroy Import Trade

Dealing with the plan for American valuation of imports the report says: "In the face of the uncertainty which this bill necessarily compels as to duties it will be impossible for any importer to continue in business and the result of this provision will be the destruction of the import trade of the United States." Another effect of the American valuation system, the report contends, is that the same duty will be imposed upon "the intelligent high cost production of Canada that we are to impose upon the cheap labor of India, China and Japan." Asserting that it is proposed by this bill "to declare a savage commercial war upon the whole human family," the democratic minority says it is doubtful "if in the history of political affairs a measure so irredeemable and universally vicious has ever been submitted to the law-making power of a civilized society."

"When and where were you married?" "On August 24, 16 years ago, in Chicago."

SINN FEINERS WILLING TO COMPROMISE DEMANDS FOR "FREE IRELAND" IS BELIEF

Ready to Accept "United Ireland" as Basis for Settlement; Smuts Visited Ireland at Invitation of De Valera Announces Premier Lloyd George

LONDON.—(By the Associated Press.)—The prime minister, Mr. Lloyd George, stated in the house of commons that he understood General J. C. Smuts, the South African premier, went to Ireland on Tuesday last on the invitation of Eamonn De Valera, the Irish republican leader. Asked whether he had conferred with General Smuts before the latter went to Ireland the prime minister replied laconically that he was seeing General Smuts constantly.

In answer to another query Mr. Lloyd George said none of the dominion premiers would attend the proposed Irish conference in London, to which Mr. De Valera and Sir James Craig, the Ulster premier, had been invited. Aside from this statement there was virtually nothing to indicate what progress had been made by the Big Four comprising Mr. Lloyd George, General Smuts, Sir James Craig, and Earl Middleton, a prominent southern unionist, toward reaching a solution of the Irish question. There was, however, official reaffirmation of the statement that the outlook was hopeful and that nothing had transpired which seriously jeopardized the prospects of a settlement.

ADDITIONAL HALF BILLION SOON TO BE PAID TO ROADS

Provisional Refunding Arrangements Announced by Secretary Mellon

SEEK APPROPRIATION TO MAKE ADVANCE TO ROADS

Will Help General Financial Situation is Claim

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Treasury Secretary Mellon announced on Thursday that under a provisional refunding arrangement made with the railroad executives the carriers would receive approximately $500,000,000 in additional advances from the federal government within the next six months. Mr. Mellon said the negotiations with the railroad executives probably would be completed within two days and that the advances contemplated would give to the railroads in cash sums of money equivalent to those which the government spent in capital expenditures during the period of wartime control. "The government will receive for the advances six per cent security evidencing the indebtedness of the particular railroads which receive the advances. It was explained, claims and counterclaims between the individual railroads and the government arising out of maintenance expenditures during the control period are involved in the negotiations. Mr. Mellon indicated, and where arrangements for an advance are completed some sort of a compromise agreement will result in each case to clear up the outstanding difficulties.

Mr. Mellon indicated that additional appropriations would be sought from congress to make the advances. Mr. Mellon also said he believed the advances to the roads would be beneficial to the general financial situation and might assist in a resumption of business activity. In many cases, he said, the advances would enable the railroads to pay outstanding debts to industrial companies for supplies during the past year and would in addition furnish funds for the betterment of equipment and repair of neglected railroad property.

In the long run, he added, the government would obtain a net profit from the advances since the money necessary could be borrowed at a lower interest rate than the security which the railroads return to the government would bear. Railroad securities now held at the treasury, he said, amounted to approximately four hundred million dollars and interest and capital payments had been regularly met on all of them, giving the government an income of about 18,000,000 a year.

MONTH'S OUTING OFFERED BADGERS AT FEDERAL CAMP

Young Men of State May Attend Military Camp Without Charge

MADISON, Wis.—The offer of a month's free attendance this summer at one of the twelve citizens' military training camps conducted by the government is made to young men in Wisconsin between the ages of 16 and 25, in a letter to Dr. G. A. Harper, state health officer, from Dr. C. E. Sawyer, brigadier general in the medical reserve corps, and personal physician to President Harding. Wisconsin citizens may apply to the commanding general of the sixth corps area at Fort Sheridan, Ill. The camp for applicants from Wisconsin, Michigan and Illinois will be held at Camp Grant, July 21 to Aug. 20.

The camps contemplate a month of training for 10,000 citizens throughout the country, with no expense to them. Not only is attendance free, but the government pays railroad fare and meals enroute to camp, and furnishes uniform, food, and medical service without charge. The camps combine military and physical training and instruction in hygiene and sanitation. Qualifications require merely average intelligence and physical ability to take the courses prescribed.

AFRAID OF MOUNTAINS

People of remote times had a superstitious fear of mountains. They were regarded as hideous excrescences of the Earth the abode of evil spirits and therefore were avoided by natives. Intense and curiosity in mountains seems to have dated from the year 1739, for it was then that the first snow-mountain was climbed—the Titlis. The first recorded attempt to reach the summit of Mont Blanc was made in 1773, and it was eleven years later that the highest point was gained. But such climbs were sporadic. "The climbing craft could not be properly invented," says Sir Martin, "till a set of men arose who returned to the mountains year by year, and gained, by repeated expeditions above the snow-line, experience of the conditions that obtained there and of their effect upon man." It was not until about 1850 that any such body began to form. The Alpine Club of London dates from 1857.

HALF OF WISCONSIN CORPORATIONS PAY NO INCOME TAXES

Had No Income Left After Paying Operating Expenses Reports Tax Commission

MADISON, Wis.—Scarcely half of the 13,000 corporations operating in Wisconsin had any income last year after paying their operating expenses, according to tax commission figures which show that 6,200 of these companies paid an income tax.

A falling off in the number of paying corporations is anticipated for this year, although it is not expected to be marked. Individual income taxes are collected by local assessors in each county.

The commission at present is working on corporation taxes for next year, finding that a drop of 20 per cent for 1921 in the amount of income tax is to be looked for, while the drop in 1922 is expected to be 35 per cent.

Two new accountants are being trained for field work inspecting books of corporations to locate unreported income. One accountant last year returned over $1,000,000 in unpaid taxes through his efforts.

THREE MORE BILLS GIVEN DISAPPROVAL OF THE GOVERNOR

MADISON, Wis.—Three more vetoes on bills were returned to the legislature today by Governor Blaine, one of which would have allowed banks to deduct real estate from the assessment of shares of bank stock. The other measures would have created a circuit court commissioner in Milwaukee county and would have permitted corporations to hold stock in another or competitive corporation without assent of the corporation in which the stock is proposed to be taken.

The governor maintained, in vetoing the bank stock bill that the bank building, when part of the bank's assets, if carried on the books at a nominal value, can be described as a completed asset, but an asset of the value equal to the value of the building. He said that it adds to the value of the stock accordingly.

In vetoing the circuit court commissioner bill Governor Blaine says that "the office being local, I can find no justification for paying any part of salary out of the state treasury, and I base my disapproval upon the single ground that purely local officers should not be made state officers, with a salary payable out of the state treasury."

WATER FROM A TREE

There is a tree that grows in Madagascar called the "Traveler's Tree" which is of the greatest service to the tired and thirsty traveler in that tropical climate. This wonderful tree has no branches, the leaves growing from the trunk and spreading out like the sections of a fan. These leaves, of which there are generally not more than twenty-four on each tree, are from six to eight feet in length and from four to six feet broad. At the base of each leaf is a kind of cup containing about a quart of cool sweet water. The natives save themselves the trouble of climbing the tree by throwing a spear, which pierces the leaf at the spot where the water is stored. The water then flows down in to the vessel held beneath it, and the traveler is enabled to continue his journey, refreshed by the precious liquid Nature has so beneficently provided for his use.

FIDELITY OF WHALES

The fidelity of the male and female whale to each other exceeds that of most animals. Anderson, in his History of Greenland, mentions that some fishermen, having struck one of the two whales, a male and female that were in company together, the wounded creature made a long and terrible resistance. With a single blow of its tail it upset the boat containing three men, through which they all went to the bottom. When another boat came up, the other whale still remained by its companion and lent every assistance, till at last the wounded victim began to sink under the number and severity of its wounds; thereupon its faithful partner, unable to survive its loss, stretched herself upon the dead body of her mate, and calmly shared its fate.

Too Bad!

GOVERNOR BLAINE'S veto of the junior college bill, which aimed to take two years of college work to the people at home, through the high schools, is in our opinion a body blow at education for the children of the common man. We deem this the greatest need of the country today. The law was a good beginning. Eventually it would have given the groundwork of higher education to the average run of workers' and farmers' children. It would have brought the college to great numbers who could not afford to go to the college. It would have saved substantial sums to thousands of others now making an up-hill struggle to send their children to college. It would have kept at home for two years longer thousands of children who would have been the better off for two more years under the home influence before trying their wings upon the world.

The governor's suggestion that he might have approved a bill seeking this end by establishing six-year high school courses comes too late to be constructive. If he had that in mind it would have been proper for him to have set the matter before the legislature in one of his several messages in time for legislative action, or he might have sent the legislature the separate message on education which he promised, but did not deliver.

That the adverse influence of the state normal schools or some of them, appears in this veto will be persistently suspected. Many normal authorities feared the bill would cut off some of their requirements for preparing teachers for high school and academy work. But to whatever extent they permitted such fear to become instrumental in killing the junior college law they have done a great disservice. The situation vividly revives the need of educational cohesion at which the Skogmo bill aimed with at least partial accuracy—some agency of central thought and unified program.

In the Blaine administration to date minor mistakes and defects, and occasional outcroppings of politics will be distinguished in due time, but along main lines it had merited little adverse criticism until the veto of the junior college bill arrived. It is our prediction that history will record this veto as the one outstanding blunder of the governor, and the polls may show it to have been political fallacy. No rich man's child would have gone to these junior colleges. They were the colleges of the poor, the workers and the orphans. Against them stood the most sordid reactionaries of the state, the people who want higher learning for only the few in order that this privileged few may profit by the ignorance of masses. That the reasons he tardily advanced for opposing the bill were different than theirs seems unimportant. The fact is that Governor Blaine has slept with strange bedfellows in this matter. Their agreement with him should in itself have given him pause for solemn meditation. We suspect that this was a hasty marriage which the governor will repent at leisure.

Manhood

BRISBANE says that, at equal age, pound for pound Carpenter was 500 times a better man than Dempsey. Brisbane meant the physical man, or he would not have made the pound his unit of comparison. In all that makes manhood, Carpenter is 50,000 times a better man than Dempsey at any time and at any weight.

Dempsey sensed this difference. He was nervous as he entered the ring. He was conscious of superior qualities in his adversary, of being outclassed in things that count more than blows. They were the things that made Carpenter dare death daily over the trenches while Dempsey was skulking in a shipyard. Dempsey knew the country had recognized this difference. He felt the contempt he had so well earned. He had heard the bores and hisses of the crowd at his last fight. He knew he could whip this smaller man, but he knew that doing so would not raise him to the other's higher plane.

The crowd didn't hiss. There was an interesting study in psychology. Why did the fight fans hiss Dempsey when he fought Bill Brennan, and not when he fought Carpenter? Doubtless because Brennan and Dempsey were both Americans, while Carpenter was a foreigner. A sense of nationality overcame aversion to the pug who built ships, or pretended to, while other able-bodied countrymen were facing death in battle. But beating Carpenter did not rehabilitate Dempsey in the esteem of his fellow citizens. He's had a lot of luck—fell into the championship at an easy time. Sullivan would have made short work of him. Peter Jackson or Fitzsimmons would have whipped him. Probably Corbett would have worn him down. Jack Johnson might have beaten him when at his best. Sooner or later a better American will beat Dempsey. Then read the sport pages to get the real verdict of America about Jack Dempsey. When that good pugilistic funeral comes we shall find that Jack Dempsey, slacker,

"To no such roseate earth is turned
As, buried once, men want dug up again."

Hot Senators

"INSURGENT" senators defeated the Lodge-Underwood program to adjourn until August 8. Kenyon and La Follette led, and rural democrats flocked to their standard. Kenyon declared that congress had better stay in Washington until foreign people had ceased to starve while American farmers were impoverished for lack of markets for their products. La Follette said senators who ran away from the heat in Washington would find it hotter at home where the farmers' tempers were boiling. Congress will stay on, and try to work it out. But it is a big problem. How can congress make markets of European countries which have no money? Farmers need credit. Congress can give it to them. But this is merely a carrying proposition. Farmers have got to find people who want food and have money to pay for it. La Follette is right. Congress had better do whatever it can do to help the farmer, and perhaps it had better do some other things that the farmer wants even if they really will not help. The farmer has his eye on Washington, and the senate would do well to roll up its sleeves and get up a sweat, even were bootstrap politics the sum and substance of the show. Then, when general conditions have gradually been straightened out by natural economic laws, as inevitably they will be, the voice from the stump can refer feelingly to Section This and Section That of the Laws of 1921 in such cases made and provided. Oh, well—that's the game! And perhaps it is the politician who stays to demand who has the better right to point with pride. Among all the legislative fumbling once in a while something goes through that helps someone somewhere, and probably the bill passers are more serviceable than the bill killers in periods of new conditions and new experiences. Congress will try many experiments, and a few may work out in practical ways.

A Peoria, Ill., woman says she painted a picture while asleep. That explains some we've seen.

In Ye Olden Times

TEN YEARS AGO TODAY

La Crosse has failed in its efforts to get the 1912 meet of the Mississippi Valley Powerboat association, owing to opposition among the southern clubs which developed owing to the long cruise to La Crosse. Rather than break up the association, however, the La Crosse delegates decided to wait until 1913, when the northern clubs will be better organized to handle the regatta.

A crew of five men worked all last night clearing sand out of the big pump that supplies the whole city with water that the pressure may be kept up. A wagon load of sand was taken out of the big machine and dumped back into the river.

Miss Grace Loomis, who has been absent from the city for the last four years, arrived home last Saturday.

Mrs. Eliza B. Wheeler, long a resident of this city, widow of the late James Madison Wheeler, died Thursday. She was 86 years old.

TWENTY YEARS AGO TODAY

For the first time in four years open air gospel meetings were held on the streets of La Crosse yesterday afternoon. Two members of the Salvation Army, one beating a drum and the other playing a cornet, marched to the corner of Third and Main streets where they halted. Soon a large crowd gathered and for nearly an hour stood listening to what the two Salvation Army workers had to say.

A crew of workers is at work finishing the outside work of St. James' church. It has taken a little over a year to finish this church after the other one was struck by lightning.

When the men went to work at the gravel pit on Indian Hill this morning they found the whole pit filled with water. The work will have to be discontinued until it dries up and the men have been laid off.

The bicycle path between North and South La Crosse has been in condition again after the recent heavy rains. A heavy coating of dirt has been put on and rolled.

THIRTY YEARS AGO TODAY

City Treasurer Joseph Roth took possession of his office today. Mr. Hallik retires with an excellent record and many friends.

A new sidewalk was built in front of the La Crosse Theater today. It was greatly needed as the old walk was about worn through.

Davis, Sorenson and company have the contract for erecting the building of Mr. E. R. Barron. The work is being pushed, and the walls are going up rapidly.

At a convention of the Norwegian Lutheran church of the synod held in Madison recently Carl Borreson of North La Crosse was elected a member of the conference committee. This committee is made up of 120 members and was elected for the purpose of conferring with other denominations of Lutherans for the purpose of bringing about a consolidation of all Lutheran sects.

A handsome and convenient patrol wagon is being built for the police department.

POOR BUTTERFLY INDEED

BY ROSE MEREIDITH

"This," said Miss Hesketh frigidly, "is the best room in the house. You will find it warm in winter, cool in summer and always quiet. The view is pleasant, too."

Marshall agreed that the view of a tangled old garden that crept towards the woods would be ideal. He heard his prospective landlady add that the other rooms overlooked kitchen gardens, the untimely trees of the spacious lawns, and the village beyond the bridge. He turned to Miss Hesketh.

"I shall need a quiet place, simple well cooked meals served in my room—and that is about all," he said, and broke into a pleasant smile. "I am writing a play," he added, "and I may sit up very late at night. Of course you may charge for the extra oil I may burn."

"My father used to sit up at all hours. He was a great student—you shall have his favorite lamp, if you wish," Miss Hesketh almost smiled as she made this concession to the "paying guest" she had deigned to take into her old house, with its faded grandeur and its many conveniences of better days. But falling fortunes had driven her to this extremity—she wanted to buy the place and she had resolved that her knowledge of good cookery combined with the natural resources of the place should make out a living for herself and Archibald's child.

Archibald's child, a lovely, dark-eyed girl of twenty, was the subdued companion of the stern, elderly aunt. Archibald Hesketh had severely married a beautiful dancer who had given up her own life for her little Amabel. Archibald brought the baby home to his horrified elder sister and later had been lost at sea. So Lydia Hesketh, who never wanted a husband or a baby in all of her narrow life, found herself in middle age with a child to bring up to womanhood. Is it any wonder that Amabel was strangely quiet and restrained? She had few girlish companions and her education had been undertaken by Miss Hesketh, but then there was the brown old library, dim in summer, cozy in winter with log fires and hundreds of books, and occasionally old friends dropping in for tea, or there would be a bazaar at the church. No wonder the girl's dark gray eyes were quiet pools reflecting only the flame of sunrises and sunsets.

"My little niece will wait upon you. She is not a talkative child and I am sure she will not annoy you," concluded Miss Hesketh after the preliminary matters had been arranged. She had found Marshall most liberal as to terms, and when he moved his traps into the south room on the second floor she went downstairs to the kitchen, humming a weird little tune in a minor key. Things looked very bright indeed for the old house. Amabel was in the kitchen hilling strawberries. She looked up and smiled as Miss Hesketh entered, and when Amabel smiled all the anxiety vanished; there was mirth in eyes that danced, lips that curved deliciously, dimples in the creamy cheeks.

At sight of this loveliness Lydia Hesketh was stricken. When ever she was frightened or disconcerted she immediately became very sensible. "You must not smile like that at Mr. Marshall, child—you are so unusual looking he might think you were trying to flirt with him. I believe I should warn you myself."

Amabel's face sobered. For the first time she realized that she had an objectionable, ugly face; she had always thought most approvingly of her reflection in the dim old mirrors, for she was her own playmate for many years. "Why couldn't I wear one of old Hepsy's faded caps, Aunt Lydia? They are not frivolous, Hepsy left some of them when she went away and they are clean and starched in the linen press." She ran and fetched one and slipped it over her dark hair. No one would have suspected that the quiet face under the quaint starched sweeping cap was that of a girl in her teens. With her small stature and tiny form Amabel looked like a child playing at "grandmother."

"Excellent," pronounced Miss Hesketh. "Now, there is no reason why you should not carry his meals upstairs while I attend to the other work." But Marshall elected to eat alone in the gloomy dining room, and he barely glanced at the funny little form that waited upon him every day. Sometimes he read while he ate, which is a bad habit, but Amabel and her aunt quite approved. No money came into the great house and the old woman and the young one rejoined in the new prosperity; they still cultivated the strawberry beds and the small fruits on the place and made and sold jellies. Up in the south room Land Marshall worked on his play, and was away sometimes for days riding in his small high-powered car.

One night in August he had worked until midnight. He put out his lamp and sat down by the open window, looking out into the moon-bathed garden. Perhaps he slept a while, for when he opened his eyes he saw a slim, white-clad form flitting down the path to the boxwood maze where an old fountain occupied the center. He could see it all from his post, and he smiled when he remembered how he had lost himself in those one day and the odd child, Amabel, had led him out of his captivity.

He watched the form, hardly believing it could be Amabel, for he had never seen her without the hideous cap. She was wearing a very straight white dress that hung limply about her bare feet. A great cloud of dusky hair floated behind her. Her feet lightly touched the ground, so lightly did she skim down the path and through the tangled maze. Fungus odors of boxwood came to him and the fragrance of roses invaded his solitude. Now he saw that the child was dancing, dancing some interpretation of her own—a worship of the silver moon—the resplendent stars—the God above. She typified youth longing for play—her poses were innocently charming.

"Poor little lonely thing—poor little butterfly-girl! The child needs

"CAMERA BUG" WHO FINISHES HIS OWN PHOTOGRAPHS SAVES

There are two methods of developing your own photographs—the dark-room method and the tank method. The latter is to be preferred. All one need do is follow the directions which come with the tank when purchased at the photography supply store.

Printing is not such a simple matter. But it is not so difficult if one is careful and remembers a few simple rules. There is no reason why any boy or girl could not soon learn to print his or her own photos.

Supplies to Buy

First, go to the photography supply shop and buy three small trays, a graduated glass for measuring chemicals, and a printing frame. This is all the equipment you will need beside the developer, fixer and printing paper. These three may also be purchased at the supply store.

Mix the chemicals carefully, following the directions that come with them. Fill one tray with the developer, one with fixer and between the two set a tray full of clear, cold water.

Work With Dim Light

You must subdue the light in the room where you work for the paper is very sensitive. It is best to work in a very dark room with only a red light. One may easily be made by pasting red tissue paper over a hole in a shoe box, placing a light within.

Beginners in photography often have trouble in placing their pictures in the printing frame.

Place the negative in the frame full side up, the shiny side facing next to the glass of the frame. Then place a piece of covering paper over the negative, with the sensitive (shiny) side down next to the dull side of the negative. Clamp the frame shut.

Exposing the Picture

The picture is now ready for exposure to a light.

Hold the printing frame one foot from the light, being careful to expose all parts of the picture equally. You will have to experiment on the time to be used. It varies from ten seconds to one minute. The darker the film the more time it takes.

Then remove the paper and quickly slip it into the developer. Be sure to not let the paper all covered. When the picture appears plainly on the paper take it out of the developer and wash it through the tray of cold water before putting it into the fixer bath. Leave the paper in the fixer for ten minutes and then remove it and wash it for one hour in running water.

Spread the photo face down on a cloth free from lint, to dry. When it has dried—there's your picture!

SKETTS LEARNS WHAT IS MATTER WITH OLD BAUMBERG'S GROCERY.

(Fourth day of "Sketts Lands a Job")

It was a restless night Sketts experienced. Twice of three times he was awake from a troubled sleep. Once he dreamed he was working for Baumberg's, the grocer, and while carrying a huge barrel of green apples to the rear of the store dropped them on a crate of eggs.

"What good can a little feller like you be?" old Baumberg's words rang through Sketts' brain. They insulted him. They made him want to get up and fight—almost.

Sketts Forms a Scheme
"I know," spoke Sketts, half aloud, in the darkness, "I know what I'll do. I'll just show Baumberg what a little feller like me can do. I'll make him give me a job—that's what!" And with this determination Sketts dozed again, only to dream of more barrels of green apples and smashed crates of eggs.

Next day Sketts stationed himself on a soap box near Baumberg's store and watched. Baumberg didn't seem to be getting many customers. But several doors down and across the street Raymond's grocery store appeared to be attracting most of the housewives with their shopping lists.

Sketts Baumberg's
"I wonder why?" mused Sketts. "Must be something awful wrong with Baumberg's. I'm going to compare the two stores. Raymond's seems a lot cleaner than Baumberg's. Old Baumberg's window displays are always messed up. Raymond's ain't. And look at Baumberg's front windows! Don't look as though they'd been washed in a month of Mondays. Old Mr. Baumberg ain't a neat person, anyhow. As you can't expect his store to be. But Mr. Raymond and Bud Raymond—they sure keep their place spick and span."

He Commences Work
"I'll bet if old Baumberg would clean up his place once in a while he'd get a lot of Raymond's trade. Baumberg's prices are just the same as Raymond's. I'm going to make some suggestions to Baumberg. I'll just show him how it pays to have somebody around to suggest things. And I'm going to be the somebody he needs."

As soon as Sketts had finished analyzing the situation in this manner and come to his decision to "show Baumberg that he was the one he needed," he started at a swift pace for home. On the way he stopped at the stationery store and bought some heavy pieces of white cardboard, some drawing paper and some black ink. "I'll bet my scheme works," Sketts chuckled as he climbed to his room and got busy.

GROUCHES

By DR. WILLIAM E. BARTON

ANY people labor hard to be uncomfortable. I know some of them, and their industry is commendable, and worthy of a better cause.

It is easy to nurse a grouch, but there are people who devote themselves to the task with a persistence which compels admiration.

Some one has hurt you? Quite possibly, but how much he has hurt you depends upon yourself. If he has done an unworthy thing to you he has hurt himself far more than he has hurt you; indeed, I am not sure that in the end you will be hurt at all if you are brave about it. The oyster is not an animal whom I greatly admire.

He is not as brave as the lion, and does not fly as gracefully as the eagle, and he does not sing as sweetly as the lark.

Heals With Pearl
But the oyster does this fine thing brothers and sisters to play with—I'll talk to Miss Hesketh tomorrow." He went to bed and hours afterward he thought he heard the muffled sound of a closing door and he knew that "poor little butterfly" was folding her tired wings for rest. The next morning at breakfast he suddenly turned and looked Amabel in the face. "How old are you, little girl?" he demanded.

"Twenty," confessed startled Amabel.

"Twenty on us—what are you doing in this disguise?" he wanted to know, and he nipped off Amabel's sweeping cap. There in all her gracious girlhood, he saw Amabel Hesketh for the first time. "I beg—your pardon—I didn't know," he stammered, and fled to his own room.

"Oh, Aunt Lydia," cried Amabel. "Mr. Marshall has found me out, and he has gone up to his room—and he is quite nice when he looks at one that way!"

Miss Hesketh smiled grimly. "I shall have to wait on him myself, and you can work in the kitchen, child," she planned, but Mr. Marshall found his way to the great flagged kitchen, and as Miss Hesketh soon became resigned to his pleasant company he found his wooing of Amabel progressing under the eagle eye of a stern aunt. When the day came that he asked Miss Hesketh for Amabel she told him frankly that Amabel's mother had been a great dancer, Maria. To her surprise he made no objection and she could only wonder why he spoke of happy Amabel as "Poor little butterfly," but she did not know of that midnight escapade in the garden and the awakening of Marshall's love.

So love and peace and happiness came again to the old house, and children played in the old garden and lost themselves in the maze, and Lydia smiled, and indulged and was never so contented in all her severe dash life as she was in these later, golden days.

WISCONSIN BATTLE GROUND FOR FIGHT ON "FILLED MILK"

Condenseries Declare War on New Law Forbidding Sale of Compounded Milk

SEVERAL PLANTS MUST LEAVE
STATE WHEN LAW IS EFFECTIVE

Measure to be Strictly Enforced
by Dairy Commissioner

MADISON, Wis.—Wisconsin will again be the battle ground for a legal fight over the authority of a state to prevent manufacture and sale of adulterated food products, representatives of condenseries making filled milk products have let it be known.

They intend to attack the constitutionality of the committee on agriculture bill which prevents sale and manufacture of condensed milk from skim milk compounded with coconut oil to replace butter fat. Enforcement of the measure will require some condenseries, manufacturing the product extensively, to move their plants from the state.

Effective September 26
J. Q. Emery, veteran dairy and food commissioner, who was a vigorous exponent of the bill, says that he will enforce its provisions strictly. The act goes into effect September 26, ninety days after its passage and publication. Injunction will be sought by the condenseries and the fight carried to the supreme court of the state, it is believed. In a previous case in Ohio the United States Supreme Court decided adversely to the condenseries with the question somewhat similar to that involved in Wisconsin.

Attempt is now being made in the federal congress Mr. Emery said, to pass the Calder bill which would make it illegal for any state to interfere with the sale of commercially sealed products. Passage of this proposal would undo most of the pure food work accomplished by states, in the opinion of the dairy and food commissioner.

Oppose Calder Bill
"I regard this bill as fraught with the gravest dangers to the citizens of the respective states," Mr. Emery said in a letter to Wisconsin congressmen and members of the interstate commerce committee of the senate in a letter protesting against the bill.

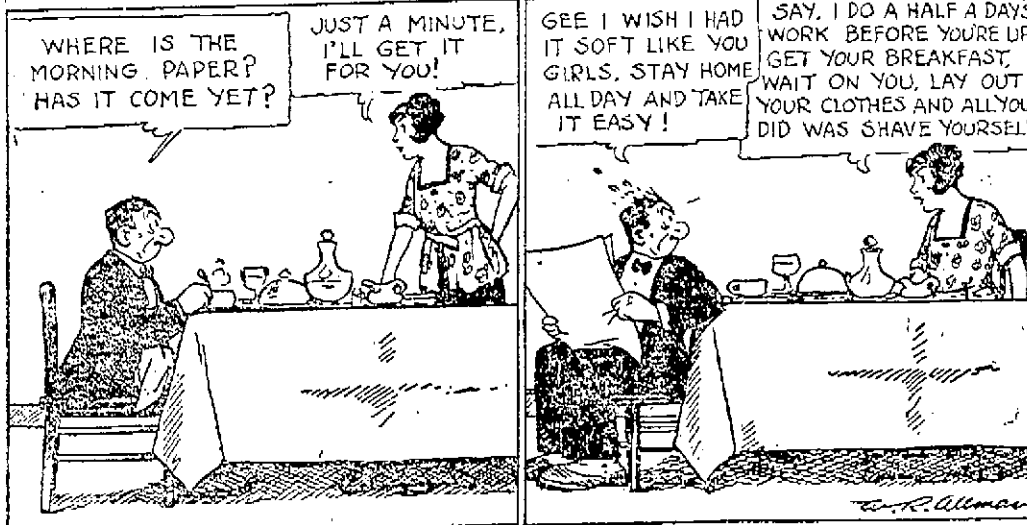

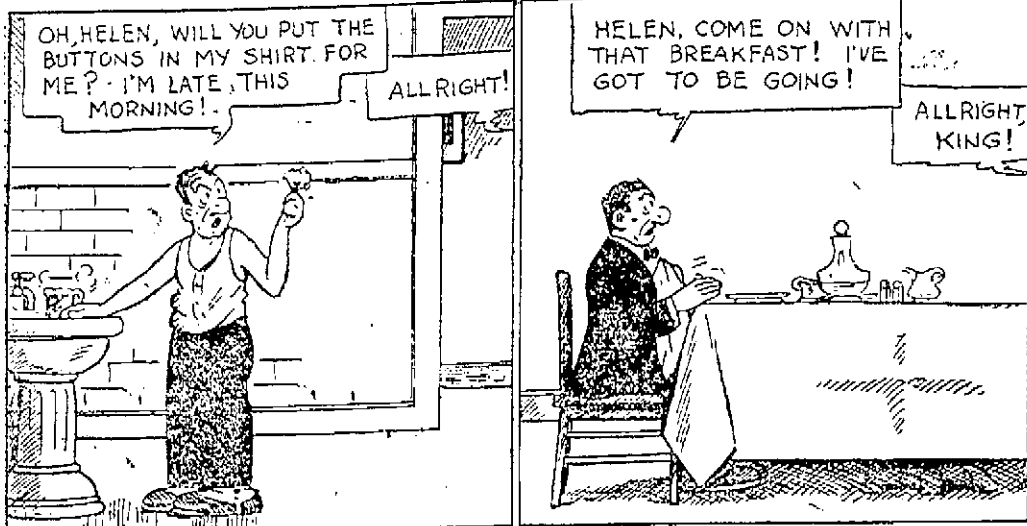

It seeks to abrogate the right which the United States Supreme Court has said "ought not be supposed was intended to be surrendered to the general government." This constitutional right has been many times affirmed by the court.

"In nearly every session of Wisconsin legislature" the commissioner said, "during my more than twelve

Very Capable

A sea captain, holding a glass of lime-juice approvingly up to the light, said:

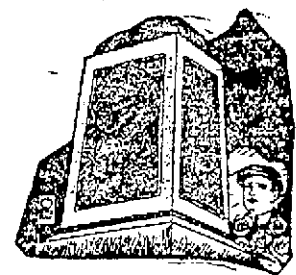

"Navies are different today from what they used to be. A man was talking to an old sailor. The sailor said:

"Yes, sir, my boss was in the navy, too."

"In the navy, was he?" said the man. "What was his official capacity, may I ask?"

"Four to five quarts, sir," said the old sailor."—Washington Star.

A Delicate Point

An American politician, who at one time served his country in a very high legislative place, passed away, and a number of newspaper men were collaborating on an obituary notice. "What shall we say of him?" asked one of the men.

"Oh, just put down that he was always faithful to his trust."

"Yes," answered another of the group, "that's all right, but are you going to give the name of the trust?"

LOCAL MERCHANTS TO JOIN TRIMMERS IN BIG CONVENTION

Large Delegation to Go to Gathering at St. Paul Next Week

A large delegation of La Crosse merchants and window trimmers will attend the St. Paul convention of the I. A. D. M. next Monday Tuesday and Wednesday. Practically all of the large downtown stores will be represented at the gathering, according to present indications.

Holding of this national convention at St. Paul, which is only 130 miles from La Crosse, affords a rare opportunity for local window trimmers and merchants to attend the event.

Actual demonstrations in window trimming by the biggest experts in the country will feature the convention, and the program of entertainment includes music by celebrated bands, outings at resorts near the twin cities and other features.

A record breaking attendance is anticipated at the St. Paul convention and elaborate plans are being made for the entertainment of the crowd. Headquarters will be at the St. Paul hotel.

Any merchant or window trimmer in La Crosse desiring information regarding the convention program may obtain details from Carl Semsch at the Doerflinger store.

MRS. GEORGE GERE GIVES A RECITAL AT THE NORMAL

Mrs. George Gere of St. Paul gave a pleasing song recital at the Normal school on Wednesday morning. The program, a wholly American one arranged in two parts, was so planned as to work up to a dramatic climax toward the close of each part. This gave ample opportunity to hear Mrs. Gere in what seemed to be her typical style, that sweet and gentle manner but escaped monotony by providing contrast through each excellently interpreted moment of drama at the close.

The group of Indian melodies given in costume was very interesting and too much can hardly be said in appreciation of the work of those who are acquainting the American public with this music. The credit is to be divided among the organizations working for their preservation, those composers who are devoting a lifetime to setting the original melodies and the artists such as Mrs. Gere who are popularizing them throughout the country.

An interesting feature of the June hard-core tournament was that George Van Auker eliminated the other golf members of his family in the play. His father, C. S. ## FORMING CHARACTER DUTY OF EDUCATION DECLARES COOLIDGE

Vice-President Addresses American Classical League Meeting in Philadelphia

CLASSICS MUST BE RETAINED IN CURRICULUM OF SCHOOLS

Ancient Literature Inspiring Plea for Patriotism

PHILADELPHIA, Pa. — Science, commerce and social culture could not progress if our educational system dropped the classics of ancient civilization from its curriculum. Vice President Calvin Coolidge told the American Classical League in session at the University of Pennsylvania.

"Education is primarily a means of establishing ideals," he said, "its first duty being the formation of character, which is the result of heredity and training. It is the ancient classics, he declared, that inspire the ideals toward which all men and nations are striving today.

"The most pressing requirement of the present hour," he asserted, "is not how we are to solve our economic problems, but: Where are we to find the sustaining influences for the realities of life? How are we to justify the existing form of government in our republic? On what can we rely for a continuation of that service of sacrifice which has made modern civilization possible.

"The progress of the present era gives no new answers to these problems. There are no examples of heroism which outlive Leonidas at Thermopylae, or Hercules at the bridge. The literature of Greece and Rome is from beginning to end an inspiring plea for patriotism.

"The world has recently awakened to the value and the righteousness of democracy. This ideal is not new. It has been the vision which people of many nations have followed through centuries. Because men know that that ideal had been partially realized in Greece and Rome, they have had faith that it would be fully realized in Europe and America.

"It is impossible for society to break with its past. It is the product of all which has gone before. We could not cut ourselves off from all influences which existed prior to the Declaration of Independence and expect any success by undertaking to ignore all that happened before that date."

There has been a theory, he continued, that all learning ought to be at once translated into scientific and commercial activities. Advancement, however, can not be insured without a culture, he declared.

"Unless Americans shall continue to live in something more than the present, to be moved by something more than material gains, they will go down as other peoples have gone down before some nation's people of a greater moral force. The way to endure is not the creation of a movement, it is the result of the long training."

MOLTEN TAR BURNS THREE MEN WHILE AT WORK WEDNESDAY

Pipe Leading to Distributor Bursts Throwing Liquid Over Street Workers

Three men, Paul May, Gus Johnson and G. Halvorson, employed by the Chicago contractor on the street improvement work in the city, were badly burned by molten tar when the pipe leading to the distributor burst, while working at Ninth and King streets Wednesday afternoon.

According to the report of the accident here, the tar was thrown over the face, hands and clothes of the men. They were immediately rushed to the La Crosse hospital where they were attended by Dr. Callahan. It was first thought that the men were seriously scalded by the tar, but according to a statement of Dr. Callahan Thursday, the men will be in condition to leave the hospital within two days.

A fourth employee of the street workers, whose name was not learned, was also slightly burned but was not taken to the hospital.

FORDNEY TO PRESS PLAN TO REWARD WORLD WAR VETS

WASHINGTON, D. C. — Secretary Mellon's statement opposing enactment of a bonus bill stating it would interfere with the administration's program of economy, Chairman Fordney of the house ways and means committee said he intended to press for action on his measure to compensate former service men as soon as tariff and legislation was completed.

"I have no doubt," Mr. Fordney asserted, "that some such legislation will be put through at this session of congress."

SAVED FROM DEATH MAN ARRESTED FOR LAWLESS CONDUCT

LONG BEACH, N. Y. — Nicholas Zuchlog, of Doylestown, Pa., who ended an ill night sea trip aboard a crude plank by floating into the shore here Wednesday was sentenced to thirty days in jail Thursday for disorderly conduct. Police said he admitted jumping into the water with the intention of making a trip to eternity, but his self-preservation completely overcame the suicidal idea when the plank here into view.

EVANGELIST SAYS THESE ARE LAST DAYS OF WORLD

Declares Second Coming of Christ is Due Within Few Years

"God has marked this as the last generation that is to live on this earth prior to his coming," said B. J. White, evangelist, in a lecture Wednesday night at the big tent on Third street, opposite the court house. He emphasized this by stating that some are now living who will not taste of death but he translated "as was Elijah," citing Biblical prophecies for evidence.

Mr. White said that the coming of Christ is the greatest event of human history, and will be known in every corner of the earth previous to his coming.

"The doom of Sodom and Gomorrah was heard by their inhabitants," he said. "God sent a warning to Nineveh and gave them ample time to repent. Jesus warned Jerusalem of its impending doom, and some regarded it and were saved.

"Will God pass this generation by leaving them to eternal destruction without sending them a message? Never! He declares 'He revealeth his secrets to his servants, the prophets.' While the coming of Christ will be a relief in the night to the world, yet God's servants will know of the event, and be ready to meet their Lord.

"As it was in the days of Noah, thus shall it be in the day when the Son of Man is revealed," Noah had given the warning, but the people laughed, until it was too late. Seven days his boat sat on dry land with its doors closed. Probationary time had closed to the antediluvians.

"Thus it is today. The signs of Christ's coming have been displayed in the heavens, in the sun, moon and stars, the last generation is here and God's servants are giving the call of mercy. Probation will soon close, and will find the multitude without shelter. Eighty-seven years of the last generation have passed, while a few years at most remain which will be filled with bloodshed and crime, while the story of the cross is being told."

Tonight Mr. White will point out the signs in the earth that mark the closing days of earth's history, he said.

CITY OF EVANSTON FINDS ADVERTISING PAYING TOO WELL

CHICAGO, Ill. — City officials of Evanston, Chicago's exclusive North Shore suburb, have decided that advertising does not pay, or rather paid too well. A year ago Charles Ward was hired by the city as its $6,000 a year advertising specialist to extol the advantages of the suburb as a summer resort. As a result, the city aldermen declared home town folks were crowded out of their own parks, beaches and amusement places. Mayor Pearson instructed the police to enforce, beginning today, a new ordinance prohibiting automobiles without the Evanston license from parking near the beaches, in parks and on down town streets.

COMMITTEE MEETS TO DECIDE SITE OF SOLDIER HOSPITAL

MADISON, Wis. — A meeting will be held late Thursday afternoon in the office of Governor Blaine to determine upon a site for Wisconsin's soldier memorial hospital, authorized by the legislature. A special committee was appointed by the governor last week to select the location. Governor's Island at Madison, near the Mendota hospital for the insane, and Waupesa have been suggested as the two most suitable places for a soldier hospital, given over to treatment of mental cases.

LEOPARD BREAKS LOOSE FROM CAGE ON SHIP AT SEA

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal. — A leopard released from his cage on the forward deck of the Pacific Mail liner Granite State, which arrived here Wednesday from Calcutta, created excitement among the passengers while the liner was at sea, according to passengers and crew. The animal broke loose during a storm and was captured after it had been locked in the officers' mess room and prodded into a cage. The Granite State carried a large collection of wild animals valued at more than 200,000, which are to be distributed among the New York and Chicago zoos and to motion picture firms.

"She attacked me. She hit me over the head. That's enough to last me forever. She is a strong woman. She has an awful wallop. I'll tell the world she hit me," said Kleinertz. Kleinertz is represented by C. L. Balaban. During the examination Mrs. Kleinertz sat practically motionless, gazing at the ceiling. Occasionally she smiled at some of Kleinertz' remarks.

REVENUE MEN IN DRIVE START OUT AFTER DELINQUENTS

Five Deputies in La Crosse Division Unite in Nationwide Drive

AFTER MANY PERSONS WHO NEGLECT TO PAY REVENUE

Fourteen Counties Included in District Covered Here

Five deputy revenue collectors, working under the direction of Division Chief P. R. Emmert today started on a campaign in the La Crosse division, comprising fourteen counties, to collect delinquent sales taxes. A drive which will cover practically every city of importance in the country, was started this week.

The five deputies working in this division under Mr. Emmert are J. H. Wyman, Nic Lehnig, Richard Westlund, J. H. Horn and P. V. McManamy.

Counties in this division are La Crosse, Vernon, Monroe, Lincoln, Buffalo, Trempealeau, Jackson, Polk, Eau Claire, Clark, St. Croix, Pierce, Dunn and Chippewa.

This drive has nothing to do with the enforcement of the prohibition act, according to Mr. Emmert.

The deputies are instructed to collect delinquent Manufacturers' Excise Tax, Manufacturers' Beverage Tax, Transportation Tax, Special or Occupational Taxes, Luxury Excise Taxes, Admission and Dues Taxes, Insurance Tax, Telephone, Telegraph Cable etc. tax, Motion Picture Film Tax, Works of Art and Jewelry Taxes, Soft Drinks at Fountain Taxes, Documentary Stamp Tax, Proprietary Stamp Tax.

"Discoveries of fraud or willful refusal to collect and pay the tax will be followed by prosecution. In these cases the bureau of internal revenue will urge the imposition of extreme penalties. Commissioners' orders will be issued."

"Failure to file a return and pay the tax is punishable by a fine of not more than $1,000 and an additional assessment of 25 per cent of the amount of the tax; while for willful refusal or evasion the penalty is a fine of not more than $10,000 or five years imprisonment, or both, together with an added assessment of 50 per cent of the amount of the tax.

"The time to file amended returns is before and not after government investigation."

FATHER WHITE IS VICTIM OF STROKE THURSDAY MORNING

Rev. William White, familiarly known as Father White to thousands of citizens here, was stricken with paralysis on Main street near the Burns fruit house Thursday morning and is in critical condition at Grand View hospital. It was said at noon. In an unconscious condition, no hopes are held out for his recovery by attending physicians.

Father White was for many years pastor of St. Mary's church and retired in 1909. He is 71 years old. Since retiring from the priesthood he has lived at 1615 King street.

FARMER RECOVERS POWER OF SPEECH ON AIRPLANE RIDE

INDIAN HEAD, Sask. — A case parallel to that of the American soldier who regained his speech during an airplane flight has been brought to light here. Over a year ago Wilfred Verner, a young farmer, was stricken in the head by a horse, and he had been unable to speak until the other day at a picnic he took an airplane ride. As a result of sharp bumps and dives he was ill when he landed but was able to talk.

THREE YEARS SPENT IN TRAINING ONE EDUCATED SEAL

"Splasho's" Leap for Life One of the Big Features of the Al. G. Barnes Circus

Three years spent in evolving a new departure of seal acts, is recorded made by Captain Stonehouse, who has charge of the aquatic department of the Al. G. Barnes circus, which comes to La Crosse Monday, July 11. That he was finally successful is a striking tribute to the captain's judgment and methods.

When Captain Stonehouse announced in winter quarters three years ago that he proposed to train a seal to do a high dive into a tank of water from a pole reaching to the top of the main circus tent the other animal trainers declared that it could not be accomplished.

The captain was certain that it could be, and so confident was he in his judgment that he has collected sundry wagers from his associates with the organization.

Seals are recognized as among the smartest of dumb brutes, and Captain Stonehouse picked the likeliest of the dozen in his care, and devoted his attention to making it the champion high diver of the world. No other tricks fell to the lot of this young seal and while the others were winning applause twice daily this coming "star" was loitering on the job. But for a certain period each day "Splasho," as the pet was named was put through a prescribed course of training, and while weeks may have been required to gain a foot higher on the perch for a successful leap, when once acquired it was never forgotten. Now "Splasho" climbs to the top of a 35-foot perch with apparent pleasure. When the top is reached the seal rises comfortably on the globe until the proper cue music is played by the band, then it makes the 35 foot dive into the tank of water more gracefully than ever accomplished by a human. This act is one of the 107 feature animal acts that will be at both performances during the engagement of the Barnes circus here.

ZONING ORDINANCE GETS FIRST TRIAL IN AUTHOR'S WARD

Invoked to Stop Erection of Candy-Factory Near Seventh and Cass

The Newburg zoning ordinance, passed by the council a few months ago, is having its first work-out in Alderman Newburg's ward—the Sixth.

The zoning ordinance has been called into action by property-owners around Seventh and Cass streets to head off the erection of a candy-making shop in the rear of the Liberty confectionery owned by Rudolph Ambroz. Erection of the shop, already begun, was stopped by notice from the city attorney on application of property-owners in the neighborhood who object to the probability of odors and other objectionable details incident to candy-making around their residences.

Under the zoning ordinance Ambroz can go ahead with his building, if he gets the consent of the majority of the property-owners within 600 feet of the proposed site. It is understood that he is circulating a petition, which, according to residents of the neighborhood, his nearest neighbors have refused to sign. Residents for about two blocks each way from Seventh and Cass have a voice in the matter under the new ordinance.

The ordinance restricts building for commercial purposes in the residential area of the south side without the consent of adjacent property owners.

ARREST MOONSHINERS

GREEN BAY, Wis. — Three alleged moonshiners were arrested here late Wednesday by prohibition officers accompanied by a deputy sheriff, and charged with manufacture and sale of illicit liquor. Three stills were confiscated, two in one home.

BIG FINANCE BILLS WILL NOT REACH THE GOVERNOR THIS WEEK

Appropriation Bills Delayed Because of Failure to Report Measures

MADISON, Wis. — Governor Blaine will not receive the big appropriation bills for university, normal schools and board of control, aggregating $24,000,000, nor the three park bills, calling for an appropriation of $350,000 until after the legislature meets next Thursday afternoon.

Failure of the clerk of the senate and assembly to report in the measures at the meeting last Tuesday will require that they go over to the next meeting. This will preclude any adjournment sine die on Tuesday, although it is expected that a definite date will be set for termination of the session at that time.

The governor has the appropriation bills in front of him in rough form, and will study them Friday and Saturday, having expressed his intention of determining what course he is to pursue with regard to finances by Monday.

A short message to the legislature is expected from the executive office when the two houses convene Tuesday.

CAMPAIGN AGAINST DOWNSTATE LIQUOR RINGS IS PLANNED

Investigation by Grand Jury in Madison in October is Also Planned

MADISON, Wis.—Sweeping investigation of alleged liquor rings in southern Wisconsin will probably be made by a grand jury which is expected to be called at the opening of the fall term of the United States district court here October 1, according to word from the office of the assistant United States district attorney here.

A letter received from W. H. Daugherty, United States district attorney of Janesville, states that the next regular term of court in Madison would convene October 1. The federal marshal's force, which has just been changed through reorganization, is preparing for a drive against prohibition offenders. It also became known that Southern Wisconsin is regarded as the scene of persistent violations of the prohibition laws.

Arrest Another

MILWAUKEE, Wis.—Arthur Berk, Kenosha, another alleged member of the whiskey ring that is charged with three alleged brothers of Bert P. Herzog, former head of the Milwaukee prohibition office, was arrested Wednesday in the steamboat inspection office in the federal building.

Berk had requested the arrival of the gasoline boat Helen B., of which he is owner and captain. The boat has been engaged several years in the fruit trade.

Berk is a co-defendant with several Kenosha men already under arrest. Nelson A. White, formerly chief federal prohibition director for Wisconsin, was arraigned on two indictments charging him with accepting $6,000 from Nathan Dubois, wholesale liquor dealer. A plea of not guilty was entered by his attorneys. Mr. White's bond of $10,000 was reduced to $5,000.

Charles Murray, Kenosha, a saloon keeper who was arrested on two indictments charging him with conspiracy to bribe Mr. Herzog and to violate the Volstead act, pleaded not guilty. His bail was fixed at $5,000.

Public Debate

In answer to the article of an ex-service man in Public Debate in regard to slackers I wish to state that as soon as I heard that the local draft board had received the slacker list I called on Mayor Bentley and asked if I could be present when they called a meeting of the draft board. He informed me that I could and that I should see Judge Hunt, who was on that board and arrange a meeting. A meeting was called for June 21.

It was postponed on account of the mayor and three other members of the board being out of the city. Judge Hunt told me he would call the board together as soon as he could get them all together. I was also informed by Judge Hunt that not a name on the list is of any one living in this community. The American Legion organization is going to see to it that the list receives publicity, and that very soon.

Respectfully,
WM. C. STEPHEN, Post Commander,
Roy L. Vingers Post.

A trench-digging machine of recent design meant for cutting a swath through the land for the purpose of laying pipe and wires, has a novel feature in a wheel without spokes. This wheel consists of a rim eight or ten feet in diameter moved around a substantial framework and supported upon an arm. This is revolved by an arrangement of gears and as it moves the buckets on its exterior lift quantities.

CIVILIAN FLYING WELL ESTABLISHED IN U. S., REPORT

Only Fifteen Civilians Killed in Three and a Quarter Million
Miles of Flying

NEW YORK. The Manufacturers Aircraft association, on completing an aviation survey of the United States, announced today that in the last six months the 1,200 commercial planes in operation in this country had flown approximately 3,250,000 miles.

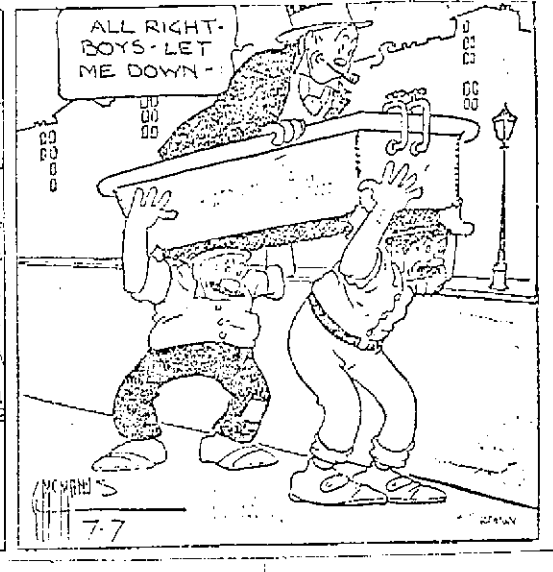

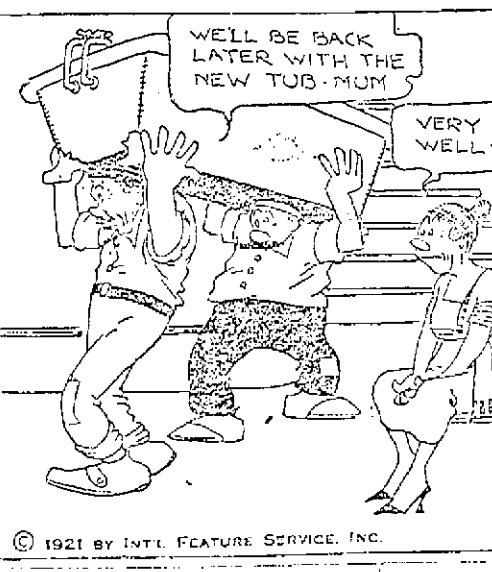

"The report," says the survey, "shows that civilian flying, although hampered by the lack of an American air policy, has established itself as a remarkably safe and dependable means of transportation. In three and a quarter million miles of travel by air, only 15 persons were killed and 43 injured in a total of 27 serious accidents. Most of these accidents occurred among the class of civilian aviators known as gypsy flyers."

Of the 1,200 commercial aircraft, probably one thousand are under the indirect supervision of responsible plane manufacturers or transportation companies, and this is absolutely the only regulation over flying, as to landings and state laws can not be enforced. Lacking a federal or organization controlling civilian aviation, these 200 or more gypsy flyers have been permitted to fly at will and many have met disaster.

"Eight of the fatalities and 32 of the injuries in the last six months have been traced to the lack of terminals, routes and storm warnings, or to needless stunts—errors, which could have been corrected or prevented had there been a national air policy. In all the United States there are only 214 adequate municipal or civilian airports, yet terminals are as necessary to aerial transport as they are to shipping or the railways. Deducting these preventable casualties, it is found that there was only one death for each 164,285 miles flown and only one injury for each 295,451 miles flown."

European displeasure over the Harding message may be accounted for by the fact that it was intended to benefit the people of America.—Pittsburgh Dispatch.

MOTHER GOOSE IN THE "BEST SELLER" CLASS
CHICAGO, Ill.—Old Mother Goose and other nursery characters, have grabbed up into the "best seller" class, according to book publishers' representatives who opened a book fair here Wednesday. Juvenile books predominate at the fair and the demand for children's books was declared to be greater than ever before.
The Bible has likewise increased in popularity, according to other bookmen. "During all periods of depression there seems to be an increased demand for the Bible," one publisher said today. "Next to juvenile stories, the Bible is our best seller."
Another publisher said that many houses had discontinued publication of books long recognized, being gradually forced to make way for modern fiction.

KNUTSON MEMBER OF FEDERAL EMPLOYMENT SERVICE AT MADISON

La Crosse Man Represents State
Industrial Commission
on U. S. Board

MADISON, Wis.—The state industrial commission reorganized Wednesday afternoon with the election of Fred M. Wilcox, chairman and E. E. Witte, Madison, secretary. For several years past the position of chairman was held by George J. Hammecht who retired from the commission January 1.

The commission chose Thomas Knutson, a member of the commission on the state vocational board, it also chose Mr. Wilcox as the commission representative on the compensation insurance board and R. G. Knutson, La Crosse, the new member, as the state's representative as chairman of the federal employment service. Mr. Hammecht will be chosen secretary of the state board of vocational education on July 9 to succeed John Callahan, now state superintendent of schools.

STARVING INDIANS REPORTED EATING FLESH OF HUMANS

FORT MCMURRAY, Alta.—Canadian mounted police left here to investigate reports that starving Indians in the Caribou tribe have been eating human flesh. The report states that human bones were found showing evidences of cannibalism. A few years ago, officials say, Caribou were so plentiful that the Indians ate only the tongues of the animals, which they held as a delicacy. They slaughtered the animals in thousands. A prophecy was made at that time by officials of the Canadian province that the Caribou would soon disappear and starvation would be facing the aborigines.

PROBE REPAIR WORK
ORDERED BY RAILWAY
CHICAGO, Ill.—Investigation of engine repair work sent to outside shops by the Chicago and Northwestern during 1929 was begun by the interstate commerce commission Wednesday. The railroad was charged with letting out the repair jobs to firms employing men at a lower rate than that paid railway employees. Robert Quayle, superintendent of motive power, and P. H. Hammell, assistant general manager, told the commission that a large number of bad order locomotives and a shortage of repair material had made it necessary to have some of the work done outside the Northwestern's shops.

Because of its strategic importance Detroit has had a military garrison ever since 1701.

AT THE RIVOLI
"The Greatest Love," which will appear for the first time in La Crosse at the Rivoli theater today, is remarkable for many things, but one outstanding point that immediately impressed itself upon the observer is the magnitude and quality of the cast. The star of the production is Vera Gordon, whose spectacular rise to fame as the "Mother" of "Humoresque" was the sensation of the year in screen circles. Part in this remarkable Select Picture, and it is said her portrayal of Mrs. Lantini far exceeds her previous screen efforts.

for Kremer's "The Winding Trail" in the leading male role, that of "Laughing Larry" Conroy, a ranch foreman. Buck Manning well known to local audiences, will be seen at his best and will be supported by the popular Marjorie Clifford, whose work in the past needs no further commendation here. The story is one taken from a chapter of the history of the Great West and deals with red-blooded men who "do things" in a manner not generally depicted on the screen. The picture lacks bombast and bravado and is built upon a logical theme in which love, self-sacrifice and devotion are about evenly divided.

The visitors tied the score in the ninth, on a pass to Hornsby, McHenry's double, Lavan's sacrifice fly and Robertson's wild throw to the plate which allowed the second run.

$200,000 OFFER IS WIRED DEMPSEY TO BOX JOHNSON

LOS ANGELES, Cal.—Proposal of a bout between Jack Dempsey and Jack Johnson with a $200,000 guarantee for the champion was telegraphed to Jack Kearns, manager for Dempsey, at New York, Wednesday night by Capt. J. M. McCaw, British war veteran here. The proposal was endorsed by E. H. Gilver and G. B. Manly, who have been handling wrestling bouts here to raise funds for Los Angeles Post No. 1, disabled veterans of the world war, of which they are members.

McCaw proposed that Dempsey and Johnson meet Labor Day.

NEW YORK.—The public can have a Dempsey-Johnson match if it wishes, but I believe there is no demand for the bout now or in the near future," Jack Kearns, manager of Jack Dempsey, said Thursday.

JACK JOHNSON IS BARRED FROM THE JERSEY CITY RING

NEW YORK.—Jack Johnson, former heavyweight champion of the world, who will be released from the Leavenworth penitentiary next Sunday, will not box in New Jersey while the present state boxing commission is in office.

ATLANTIC CITY WANTS TO PUT ON BIG BOUTS

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J.—Local promoters have been bitten by the heavy-weight fight bug and not only seek a Dempsey-Willard battle, as announced Wednesday, but proposed to offer a $100,000 purse for a meeting here, probably on Labor day, of Georges Carpentier and Tommy Gibbons.

George Filizio, local promoter, backed by business men, has made the above bid, and before long expects to hang up a purse five times as large to attract Dempsey and Willard. "There is not much hope of landing the Carpentier-Gibbons battle, because Tex Rickard is known to have the inside track, but it is possible that Dempsey and Willard will talk business."

"In Every Respect" says the Good Judge

You get more genuine chewing satisfaction from the Real Tobacco Chew than you ever got from the ordinary kind.

The good tobacco taste lasts so long—a small chew of this class of tobacco lasts much longer than a big chew of the old kind. That's why it costs less to use.

Any man who has used both kinds will tell you that.

"One of the Greatest Economic Problems Is Distribution"

PRESIDENT HARDING in a recent address declared that "one of the greatest economic problems, if not the greatest, is distribution. There can be no doubt of the position of the good roads movement in the solution of the problem. I believe that Federal and State Governments must not only create good roads but they must insist upon the maintenance of good roads. A good road gone wrong is a streak of memorial to neglect and waste. The roads we build must be built for use in the distribution of products rather than for merely pleasure riding. We must foster the use of motor trucks."

The expression of the chief executive of our nation is but a confirmation of the experiences of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) in the conduct of its business.

The problems of distribution are of paramount importance and in effecting this distribution, good roads are a primary essential.

The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) has in operation more than 4000 motor trucks engaged in distributing gasoline, kerosene and lubricating oils to ultimate consumers in 11 Middle Western States. It is the business of this department to attempt to furnish Standard Oil products to whoever may require them, wherever he may live.

To supplement the tank wagon, the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) maintains a network of service stations, located on the main traveled highways, every few miles in the country and every few blocks in the city.

Through its highly specialized organization, the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) manufactures from crude petroleum the three factors necessary to a solution of the problems of distribution.

- Stanolind Paving Asphalt for good roads—enduring roads.
  - Red Crown, the high-grade gasoline, for power—tremendous power.
  - Polarine, the perfect motor oil, for lubrication—correct lubrication.
- In the manufacture of these products, the Company has set as a measure of value, specifications which it believes insure the user the utmost of service at a minimum of expense. Its products are made to exact standards, and these standards are based upon a careful, exhaustive study of the conditions under which they will be used. All are uniform in quality and go to the consumer with the Company's guarantee that they are exactly as represented.

EARLY BIRD GOT THE CANARIES INSTEAD OF THE WORM THIS TIME

Farmer Asks Compensation for Damage to Early Crops by the Birds

MADISON, Wis.—The early bird gets the worm, but John Cesarsky of Thorp, in a letter to the Conservation Commission, writes that he planted his wheat and oats before the rest of his neighbors. Now he says that all the canaries in Wisconsin have been making his wheat and oat fields their banquet board and asks that he be reimbursed for being their chief to the extent of $25.

State Treasurer Henry Johnson's $11,000.00 in cash cannot be touched for this $25 claim according to L. Scheibel, secretary of the Conservation Commission, and John will have to get a bill through the next legislature if he wants to get his claim paid.

"The state has paid for damage done by deer," said Mr. Scheibel, "often for dogs, and sometimes for other protected animals but this is the first time that we have been asked to pay for damage done by canaries."

John's letter to the commission follows:

"Am writing a letter regarding to my oats and wheat. I came from Minnesota a year and a half ago and am the earliest man around here that seeds his grain and this year the canaries came from all around because all other crops of grain are not ripe yet so they all gather on mine and did about $25.00 worth of damage on my wheat field and now went on my oats. Last year they did the same thing, but did nothing, but this year I want to know what can be done as it is not allowed to shoot them. I think I ought to get paid for it. Please answer.

Yours truly,
JOHN CESARSKY,
Thorp, Wis.

RIVERS SENTENCED TO TWO YEAR TERM IN MADISON COURT

Man Who Said He Came from La Crosse Goes to Waupun for Blackmail Attempt

D. H. Rivers who tried to blackmail E. S. Johnson, cashier of the First National bank, Thursday, for $50,000 recently, was sentenced to two years in Waupun in hard labor by Judge E. Ray Stevens in circuit court at Madison. Rivers claimed when arrested that he came from La Crosse.

Rivers was a stranger in Baraboo when he attempted to force the payment of the money. Mr. Johnson received the letter demanding that he leave a package with $50,000 in it at a hotel desk. He was promised the death penalty should he refuse to comply.

The letter stated an old man who knew nothing of the plot would call for the package and that he had been paid 50 cents to run the errand. A package containing a cigar box stuffed to give it weight was left at the desk and John Burke, Northwestern railroad detective, watched for a claimer.

The old man appeared procured the package and walked down the railroad tracks. Anxious to examine the contents he began to unwrap the package and he was arrested by Burke who followed him from the hotel. He later admitted that he was alone in the blackmail scheme.

Rivers is said to be about 75 years old. He traveled from place to place and is believed to have stayed at any one place for but a short time. He informed Judge Stevens that he had nothing to say but asked leniency.

VACATIONS AT HOME

"Janet next door again? She's over there all the time," grumbled Dad as he missed his oldest daughter. "Well, you see the young folks are all home. Bob and Bill are back from college. Boss and her chum are up from Normal and the girl who teaches is back from Alaska. The youngster who graduated from High School was offered a trip this summer, but she refused to miss any of the fun at home.

They put the furniture into summer clothes, cretonne slip covers and drapes, the rugs are up most of the time and Janet says they have the best collection of dance records in town.

I pitied poor Mrs. Smith, but she says they eat on the porch off Sanitas lunch sets to save washing. The girls all help run the electric washing machine on Monday. Bob fixed a fan to cool off the girl who ironed and the teacher does marvelous things with a fireless cooker, so hot dinners are no bother. They are up betimes to fill the cookie jar, bake cake and bread in an oil stove—so life is just one good time after another. Every picnic, outing and dance starts and ends at Smith's. She is one woman who isn't concerned with How-to-Keep-the-Young-Folks-Home and like every natural mother, Mrs. Smith thoroughly enjoys it," and Janet's mother rolled up her sewing.

"Where are you going?" demanded Dad.

"Over to Smith's," weekly replied mother.
